Rationale: Sculpture is a studio class designed so that the student can experiment with additive, subtractive, and casting methods of creating sculpture in the round as well as relief forms.

Course Description: This course is designed so that students can experiment with mediums when creating sculptures that express gesture, feeling, movement, etc. Some forms will be freestanding, while others will rely on some type of background with visible, tactile relief. Students will be encouraged to create mixed medium sculptures and use a variety of materials in the classroom to help complete their forms.

Course Outline: Found Object Sculptures – will display personality, gesture, and form of the sculpture student; may be representational or abstract portrayal. Subtractive Clay Figure – using dried blocks of clay student will use a variety of stone carving tools, as well as dremel tool, etc. to create figure while also negotiating the affects of ground present. Relief and Paper Casting – using modeling clay to build form, form and pour mold, paper casting of image. Composition in Wire – paper casting. Cast of Body Part – using rock hard water putty and plaster wrap with abstract ideas for final composition. Freestanding Figure – made of tubes, face in putty, try to capture gesture, style, personality, etc of an instructor on campus.

Course Learning Objectives:

A student in the Sculpture class at CCC will display a higher level of critical and creative thinking:

- *student will display progression and building on techniques as well as cross-over learning acquired in the studio class and personal experience
- *student will display professionalism and creativity in the completion of all studio work
- *student work will reflect expression of creativity, individualism, and experimentation of materials
- *student will show an understanding of how this medium has changed developed from past to present.

Course Competencies:

Personal Management Skills

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to successfully:

- attend class on a regular and timely basis.
- participate in class in a clear, concise, and logical manner.
- submit completed assignments on due dates.
- understand and follow instructions.

Method of Instruction: Lecture, slide shows, classroom participation, digital media projects, demonstrations, student projects, video, group activities, visual and investigative research, assignments, critiques.

Method of Evaluation: Final Grade Breakdown:

30% Attendance: will be taken each class period. Excused absences are school-approved activities or approved personal reasons. Please contact instructor before class or before the end of the day absent by email or phone/message to be counted excused. Student is responsible for making up work missed.
70% Projects and Final Critique

Course Requirements: Projects: students must attend each class period, work that is not monitored in class weekly will not be accepted for a grade. You will need to spend extra time in the art studio working to complete each assignment; plan to spend as much time out of class as you do in class working on your projects.

Attendance and Participation: Attendance is very important to this course; 30% of your entire grade is based upon attendance and participation.

Academic Integrity

Colby Community College defines academic integrity as learning that leads to the development of knowledge and/or skills without any form of cheating or plagiarism. This learning requires respect for Colby's institutional values of quality, service and integrity. All Colby Community College students, faculty, staff, and administrators are responsible for upholding academic integrity.

Cheating is giving, receiving, or using unauthorized help on individual and group academic exercises such as papers, quizzes, tests, and presentations through any delivery system in any learning environment. This includes impersonating another student, sharing content without authorization, fabricating data, and altering academic documents, including records, with or without the use of personal and college electronic devices.

Plagiarism is representing or turning in someone else's work without proper citation of the source. This includes unacknowledged paraphrase, quotation, or complete use of someone else's work in any form. It also includes citing work that is not used and taking credit for a group project without contributing to it.

The following procedure will be used for students who violate the policy:

- First Offense – Student will receive a zero for the assignment and the student will be reported to the Dean of Academic Affairs.
- Second Offense – The student will be reported to the Dean of Academic Affairs and removed from the class.
- Third Offense – The student will be reported to the Dean of Academic Affairs and dismissed from the college.

Any questions about this policy may be referred to the Dean of Academic Affairs.

Assignment Policy: Students are responsible for all information covered during the class. It is your responsibility to complete and turn in all assignments on the assigned due date. It is critical that you manage your time wisely so as to be able to meet all deadlines.

Class Courtesy: It is understood that students will be respectful to the instructor and the other students in the class. While I truly want you to enjoy this class I will not tolerate any behavior that impedes the progress and enjoyment of the others in the class. All the students in the class deserve the opportunity to learn in a congenial, non-threatening environment. Anyone who willfully causes distractions in the classroom will be asked to leave and possibly removed from the class roster.

Attendance Policy: Attendance is necessary! and is taken daily during class. Excused absences are school-approved activities or approved personal reasons. Please contact instructor before class or before the end of the day absent by email or phone/message to be counted excused. Student is responsible for making up work missed.

Assessment:

Colby Community College assesses student learning at several levels: general education, program, and course. The goal of these assessment activities is to improve student learning. As a student in this course, you will participate in various assessment activities. An example of your work, a paper, some test questions, a presentation, or other work may be selected for assessment. This process will not affect your grade, will not require you to do additional work and your evaluation will be confidentially handles. Results of these activities will be used to improve teaching and learning at Colby Community College.

Syllabus Information Disclaimer: “I reserve the right to change any information contained in this document, when necessary, with adequate notice given to the student. Notice shall be given in the classroom during class. No other notice is required. It is the students’ responsibility to stay current with any changes, modifications, adjustments or amendments that are made to this document.”

Accommodations for Students With Disabilities: “According to the Americans with Disabilities Act, it is the responsibility of each student with a disability to notify the college of his/her disability and to request accommodation. If a member of the class has a documented learning disability or a physical disability and needs special accommodations, he/she should contact Student Support Services, which is located in the Student Union.”

Equipment: All equipment and tools necessary for success in this course will be made available on campus and most art supplies are provided.
